if you really want them. Don't go on mistreating them by making them work for you every day and half the night under a heavy handcap. If they need a new pair of glasses, a GOOD pair that amazes them in the intelligent, scientific way, go to a competent optician and have them fitted.

If your eyes are all right, you are fortunate; we congratulate you; if they need attention, see us now.

cord. Half way through the voyage, when Rio Janeiro had been reached, Captain J. A. Amesbury, with his officers and crew had grown so aged by their protracted voyage that they unanimously quit the ship. Captain J. E. Sewell with a few choice and brave spirits took charge of the vessel afterward, but she became so worn out with simply rising up and down with the tides at Rio that they also left in disgust. It remained for the indomitable spirit of Captain William Taylor to urge her out into the open sea again and after riding out a turbulent tempest off the River Plate, to bring her safely to her anchorage at this port.

How the Kenilworth left Philadelphia on August 19, 1906, and after being given up for lost, reached Montevideo and Rio Janeiro, via Cape Horn—that is she was driven back and up the coast in some erratic manner—and how after many hardships and injuries suffered by the crew and damage and loss to the ship, she eventually lay for long being repaired at Rio Janeiro is now ancient history. According to First Officer Charles E. Anderson, after Captain Taylor took charge of the Kenilworth and got her to Rio Janeiro she had barely begun her voyage down the coast before a terrific gale was met with. The cargo of coal shifted and she stood on her beam ends. For days she was constantly filled to the rail with water and she had such a list that the eaves of her deckhouse amidships was running under the water and both the port and starboard life boats were smashed to ribbons. Anderson says that from the Horn on they had smooth weather; the Kenilworth only occasionally burying her jibboom in the trough of the sea. After the Horn was passed all was plain sailing and fairly good time was made up the coast. "I look on the vessel as a curio," said Anderson yesterday and after considering the ship those who visited her concluded he was nearly right. The Kenilworth brought 3400 tons of coal.

FORTIFICATION BILL

has been annually appropriated since the Spanish-American war. The cutting down of the department's estimates by $30,233,334 means, among other things, that the committee has recommended nothing for continental United States, and has appropriated mainly for the Hawaiian and Philippine Islands. The committee has turned down entirely the department's proposal for the fortification of Manila harbor by the construction and fortification of an artificial island, and nothing is carried for Subig bay.

The only points in continental United States appropriated for in the bill as revised by the committee are Deception pass in Puget Sound, Charleston, S. C., Pensacola, Fla., Mobile, Ala., and various points where expenditures are required for the installation of range finding apparatus.

For the Hawaiian Islands practically everything is allowed that was recommended by the Taft board, excepting the fortification of Pearl Harbor.

Provision is made for the fortification of Carabobo island in Manila bay. While the fortifications bill never designates the particular points where expenditures under its appropriations are to be made, it is known that this year's bill, as revised by the committee, is intended to cover, among various projects, the following: For range finding (fire control) in continental United States, $270,000; for guns and implements at Deception pass, $573,000; for fortifications at Honolulu, including placing in a few additional mortars at Pearl Harbor, $1,100,000; for fortifications in the Philippines, $1,949,000.

Two hundred thousand dollars was considered by the department as a necessary appropriation for purchase and experiment with flying machines. This estimate was thrown out entirely, the committee deciding that the $54,000 balance on hand for that purpose, plus the $50,000 regular allowance, should be more than necessary to meet all department demands in this line for the present.

The bill carries many items relating to the Pacific coast. It was developed at the hearing that Puget Sound was badly in need of defenses. Most of the $300,000 carried in the bill for construction of batteries was allotted for fire control stations, the greater portion of it for San Francisco. That work there is nearly completed. The $210,000 allowed for searchlights will be used for Pacific coast ports. The committee allows $175,000 for storehouses, cable gallery and torpedo stores.

houses and other structures for submarine mines, which will be expended on the Pacific coast. The cost of such work would give San Diego $36,314, San Francisco $12,000, Columbia river $30,400 and Puget Sound $13,800. The bill grants $400,000 for seacoast batteries in Hawaii. The total cost of these batteries would be much greater. There will be mortar batteries both at Diamond Head and Pearl Harbor and 12-inch guns at Pearl Harbor.

The 14-inch guns will be placed at the entrance to Honolulu harbor, on the island at the edge of the town.

The following brief and incomplete comparison gives an idea of the way the War Department's estimates were pruned in the committee: For the Philippine Islands, $6,459,000 was asked. This includes $3,500,000 for the construction and fortification of an artificial island in Manila bay, which was entirely disallowed, and $700,000 for fire control, which was cut to $100,000. The department wanted $5,000,000 for Pacific coast cannon in the insular possessions and was given $400,000. For improvements in continental United States, $4,247,000 was asked for, and only $300,000 allowed; for fire control, $1,685,000, which was cut to $270,000; for supplying electric current for battery and other uses $1,000,000, cut to $190,000.

The department estimated $3,488,000 to be necessary for the purchase of new sites for batteries in the United States. The committee decided that $1,000,000 would be sufficient allowance. For new searchlights $1,000,000 was asked. The bill as revised allows only $210,000. For the lining of casemates in torpedo plants the sum of $464,964 was estimated. This was trimmed down to $175,000. Eight hundred thousand dollars was designated for the purchase of mountain, field and siege guns. The committee allowed only $300,000. For seacoast guns in continental United States the department wanted $2,680,000 and got $273,000. For reserve ammunition for seacoast guns $1,000,000, which was cut to $325,000.

POLICE CASES

A calendar of 38 cases confronted Judge Andrade at Police Court this morning. Eight drunks were fined sums amounting to $39. Two drunks had sentences suspended for thirteen months.

Five gamblers were fined seven dollars each.

George Rosa was given thirty days for beating his wife. Sam Nohani was given four months for wife beating.

Mrs. Kekula was fined $5 for disturbing the quiet of the night.

Ah Poon, charged with the theft of a mule, and obtaining money under false pretenses, had his case continued until Wednesday morning.

The twelve Japanese gamblers headed by Ah Sam, who were arrested Saturday night, were fined sums amounting to $191.

Ah Sam was fined $25 and costs. Thursday last week Ah Sam decided he would forfeit bail, but Judge Andrade issued a bench warrant for him and it costs him about $40 altogether. The rest of the cases were continued.

An aching tooth isn't one of the things that jump for joy.

RESERVATIONS ARE TOO NUMEROUS

Call early for your tickets for the Lilliputian engagement. Thus you will save any chance of your seats being misplaced and you will greatly oblige the Orpheum management. The large number of tickets held in reserve by Orpheum patrons is very awkward for the people in the box office as they are hard to handle and occasionally some get lost. Remember that no tickets will be held after 5 o'clock the night of any performance.

Tonight the delightful comic opera "Geisha Girl" will be put on. This will be repeated tomorrow night.

There will be a matinee Wednesday afternoon for "In Town" and a special matinee Friday afternoon for "Florodora."

FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON.

Mrs. Sara Jane Clark, wife of Dr. A. B. Clark, died on Saturday evening, after a lengthy illness. She was a daughter of Dr. D. D. T. Hamlin, of New York state, being born on the Hudson and coming west with her parents when six years old. She was married to Dr. Clark in Chicago in 1872. Six years ago she moved to Honolulu, the birthplace of Dr. Clark. Besides her husband she leaves two daughters and a son; Mrs. Charles E. Sedgwick, of Fort Wayne; Mrs. W. T. Balding, of Hilo, and Albert B. Clark, of Honolulu.

The funeral will take place from the residence, Manoa Valley, at 3:35 this afternoon. Interment at Nuuanu cemetery will be private, but friends are invited to attend the services at the house.

IROQUOIS HAS STARTED FOR HOME

LEAVES MIDWAY WITH THE MARINES AND ARMS AND AMMUNITION FOR HONOLULU.

United States tug Iroquois in charge of Lieutenant Commander Carter sailed yesterday from Midway island for Honolulu, having taken aboard the twenty marines stationed there, together with all arms and ammunition on the island. The Iroquois is expected here toward the end of the week.

Soon after her return to Honolulu, as stated in The Star some days ago, it is expected that the Iroquois will go to join the big fleet on the Coast, to act as tender and to be placed in command of a boatswain.

Admiral Verry, Commandant U. S. Naval Station here, yesterday received a message from Lieutenant Carter that the Iroquois had sailed.

CHARGES QUASHED.

Indictments against Suena Koga and Shigeka Koga were nolle prosequi on motion of R. W. Breckons, in the United States District Court. Both were old indictments charging perjury in connection with a women importation case.

COMMITTEES FOR THE FLEET

MEETING WILL PROBABLY BE HELD THIS WEEK TO MAKE FURTHER PLANS.

A meeting for the purpose of appointing sub-committees for the fleet, will probably be called by Chairman E. A. Mott-Smith some time this week.

George W. Smith, one of the general committee, stated this morning that something would be done shortly in the way of definite plans, and that Honolulu's entertainment of the fleet will be something that the officers and men will never forget.

"The time is getting short for us to prepare, and at the meeting this week the standing committees will be appointed and they will have their hands full arranging all the details," said Smith.

"What the receptions will be I am unable to state at present," Mr. Smith continued, "but I suppose there will be several large receptions for the officers and the same for the men, with a number of dances and banquets."

"The fleet will be here for ten days, and I think that all of that time will be taken up with making their stay enjoyable."

HOW THE ASTRAL MAY WIN OUT

JAPANESE CREW SHE IS TAKING MAY HAVE TO RESHIP AT ONCE.

Captain Dunham of John D. Rockefeller's ship Astral has a long head.

While United States officers here are paying close attention to the fact that he has shipped 24 Japanese as sailors aboard his vessel for the voyage to New York, and are talking of the trouble Dunham will likely to get in if any of the Japanese get ashore on the Atlantic coast and fail to prove themselves bona fide sailors when they shipped here, Captain Dunham, up in Hilo, watching the Astral go deeper and deeper with sugar, is smiling a huge Standard Oil smile.

If the Japanese are refused landing in New York, the immigration authorities there will order them deported. That is just what Dunham wants.

He wants to use the same crew, after he has trained those of them who do not know what a sail is, around the Horn, to take his vessel from New York to Hongkong with oil.

KOLOA AND MCBRYDE.

Transcript of evidence was filed in the Supreme Court this morning in the appeal of the Koloa Sugar Company to the action of Judge Lindsay in overruling its demurrer in the case of McBryde Sugar Company vs. Koloa Sugar Company. The case is the one in which the dispute over water rights on Kaula nearly led to rioting some weeks ago between the employees of the two plantations.
